

INTELISECURE ACQUIRES UK-BASED PENTURA, ESTABLISHING A MANAGED SECURITY AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICES POWERHOUSE ACROSS NORTH AMERICA AND EUROPE

IntelliSecure now protects the critical assets of more than 500 enterprise customers worldwide with anticipated 2015 revenues in excess of $35M; forecasts a 50 percent annual sales growth rate in the next three consecutive years.

DENVER, and Reading, U.K. Oct. 28, 2015 – IntelliSecure, the leading managed security service provider (MSSP) delivering critical asset protection for enterprise organizations worldwide, today announced it has acquired Pentura, Ltd., a leading information security and MSSP based in the United Kingdom. The combination of IntelliSecure and Pentura creates one of the world's largest managed security services organizations focused on critical asset protection. Financial terms were not disclosed.

Based on the acquisition, IntelliSecure projects 2015 revenues to total more than $35M (£22.6M). Additionally, the company anticipates a 50 percent annual sales growth rate for the next three years. The combined organization now protects the critical assets and most sensitive intellectual property for more than 500 enterprise organizations across North America and Europe.

The acquisition follows IntelliSecure's successful completion of an $8M Series B equity investment round led by Charlotte, N.C.-based Frontier Capital. To-date, IntelliSecure has raised $22M of equity financing, combined with a $6M debt financing from Silicon Valley Bank to be used to fund development of IntelliSecure's next generation managed security services platform, slated for launch in Q1 2016. In total, IntelliSecure has generated $28M in strategic investment capital over the last 16 months.

"Pentura is the definitive leader in the UK security assessment market, providing world-class services to enterprises of various sizes throughout the UK and EMEA", said Rob Eggebrecht, President and CEO of IntelliSecure. "Our acquisition is a win-win for our customers in North America and Europe, as well as for future enterprise customers who recognize the most effective stop-gap measure to combat today's escalating cybersecurity threats is through critical asset protection."

"We are thrilled to announce we are now a part of IntelliSecure, a move that helps us accelerate, scale and extend our breadth of pen testing, DLP, and GRC service offerings for our customers," said Pentura CEO Tony Allen. "IntelliSecure is the market leader in managed DLP and critical asset protection services, and we look forward to building our leadership position in the next generation managed security services market."

Founded in 2002, Pentura is a market-leading managed DLP provider within the UK. Through its highly accredited penetration testing, Data Leakage Prevention (DLP) and Governance, Risk & Compliance services (GRC) services, the company is recognized and respected in the UK for mitigating the risk for their clients by protecting mission-critical and sensitive data. This is achieved through consultancy-led, comprehensive services incorporating deployment of best-of-breed technologies.
