

IntelliSecure Names Mike Sherwood as Executive Vice President of Global Sales

Seventeen year security industry veteran with proven track record of leading rapid team growth to head sales efforts in the expanding managed security space

Denver, CO (August 2, 2016) – IntelliSecure, a managed security services provider specializing in critical asset protection, today announced it has named Mike Sherwood as executive vice president of global sales. Sherwood has more than 17 years of experience in building high-growth sales organizations in the cyber security and managed security services industries. As executive vice president, Mike is responsible for all aspects of revenue generation at IntelliSecure, including managing the continued growth of the sales team and enhancing the sales organization’s processes and methodology.

“We are excited that Mike has joined IntelliSecure,” said Steven Drew, IntelliSecure CEO. “His background within the security industry and experience in building sales teams that provide superior client service are well suited to help IntelliSecure’s continued growth in managed security services focused on protecting an organization’s most critical data assets.”

Mike served in a variety of executive positions at Dell SecureWorks prior to joining IntelliSecure, most recently as executive director of global business development and vice president of global sales. He served as senior vice president of sales at SecureWorks prior to Dell’s acquisition of the company and as vice president of sales at LURHQ prior to its acquisition by SecureWorks. Mike was responsible for successfully growing a sales group of two people to a team of more than 100 in his leadership roles at SecureWorks and LURHQ.

“I am excited to be joining a company that has innovated how managed security services are provided,” said Mike Sherwood, IntelliSecure executive vice president of global sales. “Organizations need smarter ways to protect themselves from today’s persistent security threats and IntelliSecure has a strong portfolio of data and threat protection solutions that help.”
